Rohrer Witmer Rated As Top Dairy Judge

J. Rohrer Witmer represented Pennsylvania on the Vocational Agriculture Dairy Judging Team at the National Dairy Congress held at Waterloo, Iowa on October 4 to 8. Rohrer placed in Group One as a dairy judge in the nation.

Glenn Stephen First in Penna. Week Contest

On September 29 the Seniors took a Pennsylvania Week Quiz which showed that Glenn Stephan had the top score and June Houser was second. Glenn had the privilege to attend a luncheon at Wiggins' Restaurant, given by a group of Lancaster retail stores. He received a prize of $10 and is now eligible to compete in an essay contest sponsored by the State Chamber of Commerce and the Pennsylvania Retailers Assn.

June and Glenn were selected to represent West Lampeter at the official tour of the Freedom Train because they had the highest scores in the quiz. They went through the Freedom Train with Mayor Carey, city officials, and representatives from nineteen other county high schools from 9 to 10 a.m. on October 10.

Mr. Snyder Begins Duties As Principal

Mr. Snyder, who teaches history and French, assumed the duties of our high school principal this year. The students, believing he is well qualified for this position, wish him much success in his added responsibilities. If all of us cooperate with him, the school will continue to go forward under his guidance.

Safety Patrol Is Doing Good Job

To be small but efficient, is our school patrol's aim.

Under the direction of Mr. Snyder, the patrol has taken several steps toward a well-rounded organization. The students, as you know, represent the 11th and 12th grades. Harold Werner is Captain and Arlene McKinney is Lieutenant in the organization.

The Senior patrolmen will be on duty throughout the term until April, at which time the Junior patrolmen will relieve the Seniors, who will then be busy with graduation preparations. Until that time a Junior will only be on duty in the event of a Senior's absence.

On November 6th, the patrolmen are invited to be the guests at the F. & M. and Ursinus football game. The members are required to wear their belts and badges which will admit them free of charge.

As a friendly reminder to the students of W. L. H. S., "Obey your patrolmen, and be safe. Take time to be careful."

Jeff Roberts: Railroad
by Edward Ford

Jeff Roberts had visited the railroad yards so often with his father that he could identify every one of the sounds. Jeff came from a family of railroaders. His ambition was to have a career on one of the great modern lines. He started with the lowest job—a callboy who tells the train crews when they are to report. His ambition was to become an engineer.

How Jeff won his place tells not only an exciting story but also the book describes how modern railroads operate.

A Girl Can Dream

by Betty Cavanna

Loretta Larkin, known as Rette, excels in athletics at Avondale High School, but finds that her social life is suffering. She resents being called a "tom-boy". Secretly she envies Elsie Wynn, her blonde classmate who is extremely popular with the boys. Rette learns how to fly a plane. What happens after that makes this another first-rate Cavanna story.

Patsy Keener Is Voted to Be Hallowe'en Queen

Patsy Keener, a member of the Senior Class, was chosen to be the Hallowe'en Queen of West Lampeter High School.

We, the students of West Lampeter Township High School, feel rather proud that Patsy was selected from a large group of contestants to reign as the Hallowe'en Queen at the annual celebration in Lancaster city.

Patsy, an attractive blonde, was one of six girls from various city and county schools who were entered in the Hallowe'en Queen contest sponsored by the Lancaster Junior

NEW TEACHERS AT W. L. H. S.

New Faculty Members Assume Staff Positions

If the new students were nervous about meeting their teachers several weeks ago, they had the sympathy of our new teachers. For these teachers had to meet at least 150 different students whom they had never seen in that first day of school.

Mr. Finkeldey

A pleasing personality and athletic build describe Mr. Finkeldey, our new coach and physical education instructor. He graduated from Temple University. Prior to coming to W.L.H.S., Mr. Finkeldey taught at Byrn Athyn Academy and the Atlantic City Technical High School.

Through his fine ability, Mr. Finkeldey has been successful in coaching many sports. While teaching at Byrn Athyn Academy, he coached an undefeated basketball team that held the record of winning twenty-one games against no losses. At Atlantic City Technical High School, he coached football, his team winning six games against two setbacks. In college Mr. Finkeldey participated in all sports and received varsity awards in wrestling and soccer.

Hunting and fishing are enjoyable pastimes for Mr. Finkeldey, but he also makes a specialty of country dancing. He likes classical and semi-classical music. He is married and has one daughter.

Mr. Zuch

The friendly smile that greets you every morning is that of Mr. Fred Zuch, our new science teacher. His home is located in Marietta, where he taught at East Hempfield. Previously he taught at East Donegal, New York Shipbuilding Yards, and Scranton Vocational School.

Mr. Zuch received his B. S. degree at Elizabethtown, his M. S. degree at Franklin and Marshall College, and his B. A. degree at Muhlenberg College. He also studied at the University of Pennsylvania and at Penn State. While attending Muhlenberg, he was awarded the Freshman Biological Award, and received the highest honor in his Sophomore year. His athletic activities at Muhlenberg consisted of football, basketball and tennis.

Gardening and reading are enjoyable pastimes for Mr. Zuch. He likes classical, semi-classical, and vocal music, having sung in the Glee Club at Muhlenberg. Mr. Zuch is married, has three daughters and a grandchild.

Mrs. Maloney

In the library you will find Mrs. Maloney always willing to help you find a book. In addition to filling the position as our librarian, she teaches English and supervises the Library Club.

She attended high school at East Donegal and graduated from Millersville State Teachers College.

Reading and cooking are her hobbies and her husband heartily approves of her cooking. As for music she prefers popular or semi-classical music but definitely dislikes cowboy music.

Baseball, basketball, ice hockey, and football are high on her list of favorite sports.

Miss Straley

Coming to West Lampeter as our new English and History teacher is Miss Esther Straley. Her home is in Maytown. She attended Elizabethtown College two years and was graduated

Yeagley, Herr To Head Sr. Play Cast

Heading a cast of twelve characters, Phyllis Yeagley and Harold Herr will star in the annual school senior production "Ghost of a Chance," to be enacted in the West Lampeter auditorium on Saturday, November 13.

Phyllis takes the part of Vera Hale while cast as Arthur Hale is Harold Herr. Also playing major roles are Patsy Keener as Amy Fitzgerald and Donald Zook as Andy Fitzgerald. Other members of the cast are Shirley Groff, a cleaning woman, Agatha Bixley; Grace Mylin as Polly Vickers, Stella Steinman as Gertrude Palston and Arlene Barley as Opal Freeze.

The story centers around Andy and Amy, brother and sister pranksters, who are bent on never letting any occupant of a particular house live in peace. You see, this was once their home. So, the new renters, Arthur and Vera Hale, are haunted for Andy and Amy are the ghosts—all dressed in bobby socks and sport clothes. There's only one thing, the two can't be seen by actors in stage, unless they're glimpsed in mirrors. And that happens near the end—when it's almost too late.

In the meantime, things happen to the Hal Luggage disappears, a vacuum cleaner runs off stage—alone!

Appreciation To Faculty

At the beginning of this school term we found several new membes on the faculty. We also found those teachers who were with us in previous years. To these teachers, whose classes we were in last year, we wish to extend our appreciation for their services to us. We are happy to be under the direction of those, whose interest it is to make us better citizens in the communities of tomorrow.

Welcome New Students

By the time this article reaches you, we will already have passed our first report card period. Time has a way of slipping by. Have we attained one-sixth of our year's goals? An affirmative answer would shock most of us.

I wish particularly to address this article to new students. About one-third of our student body each year is new. This means that there is a bit of "initial inertia" to overcome before we get a sense of belonging. You are now a part of the West Lampeter student body. This offers you opportunity for learning and also opportunity for developing desirable qualities of citizenship.

Last year 1,056,000 young people graduated from our secondary schools. I hope that you will attain a similar goal. You can if you work and persevere.

I know the problems confronting a new student. I hope that you are finding help and inspiration from our student body. We try to make you feel a part of the school. We wish to offer the facilities of the school and the counsel of your teachers so that you can become a better person. We expect, however, that you cooperate and try to become a better individual. School is a mutual cooperative enterprise. It works both ways.

I hope you will find your loyalties deeply rooted in the finest traditions of West Lampeter. There is nothing quite so noble as loyalty to a cause. I hope you like school . . . the West Lampeter High School. So, welcome to our group. Stay with us and try to complete your course of study.

Robert L. Adams, Supervising Principal

Chorus Is Organized

The Senior High Chorus has already begun to practice for the coming Candlelight Service. The Chorus will be accompanied by a piano and organ.

Officers were also elected at a recent meeting. They are as follows: President, Arlene Barley; Vice President, June Houser; Secretary-Treasurer, Dorothy Brubaker; Librarian, Betty Jane Lefever.

Curtains and Atmosphere

During the summer vacation a committee from the class of '48 and the class of '49 met to choose stage curtains for our school. The committee, with the help of an interior decorator, chose blue curtains with a gold trim. This gift, presented during the commencement exercises of the class of '48, has proved a great asset to the appearance of W. L. H. S.

LIBRARY CLUB OFFICERS AT WORK

CLUB NEWS

The members of the Library Club are progressing with their plans and activities for the current school year. The following officers were elected recently: President, Dorothy Brubaker; Vice-President, Doris Ressler; Secretary, Joanne Stoner; Treasurer, Gloria Lintner.

The purpose of the Library Club is to acquaint the students with the functions of the Library and to stimulate their interest in books.

In addition to the business meeting held each week, the thirty-two members learn to shelve books, take care of the circulation of new books, and learn the processes of the library. Each member has certain periods every week when she takes charge of the desk controlling the circulation of books in the library. Later they plan to assume the responsibility of the displays on the Library bulletin board.

The club held a Hallowe'en Party at the home of Ruth Anne Yuninger.

Two Students Enjoyed Interesting Vacations

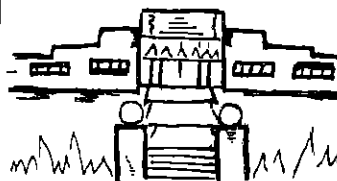

While most West Lampeter students were spending their summers vacationing in Lancaster County, several of their classmates were experiencing many thrills.

Barbara Reiner spent her vacation on an interesting trip to Canada where she was amazed to find Montreal and the adjoining boroughs very quaint and quite typical in French style. At the restaurants there were two columns on the menu, one written in French and the other in English. The men wore berets and the women looked like they just stepped out of a Paris shop. The new look was quite prominent and so were hair buns and upsweeps.

The buildings in the town were very old, especially in the mediocre sections. Apartment steps were winding stairways outside of the buildings with French doors at every feat. After touring the city, boating in Lake Champlain proved delightful.

The people rely entirely on the crops and animals they raise for subsistence.

Martha Rex of the Junior class spent one week in Florida. She also spent a week at Fort Lauderdale (near Miami) swimming, boating and sightseeing. An all day trip to Key West highlighted that week, but Marty enjoyed the Cypress

ALUMNI NEWS

Since our closing edition of the We La Hi Times last year, much alumni history, has been made. Weddings seem to have taken first place.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Manning of State College, Pa., had a baby girl on September 29, 1948. Mrs. Manning is the former Miss Margorie Rex '44.

The following weddings also took place: Marian Meck to Jim Graybill, Marty Meck to Mark Bushong, Mildred Shenk to Clyde Herr, Miriam Myers to Paul Miller, Anna--Charles to Chet Wilson.

Beatrice Rex is vacationing in Canada. She has been working for the last year in a hospital in Florida. She also spent a vacation in Cuba.

During this past summer the class of "1923" held a reunion at the home of Clarence Keinn. It was held in the form of a buffet luncheon to which the class members and their families were invited. Out of the 28 members of the class, 17 attended. In the evening they visited James Donnelly who could not attend the reunion because of illness.

Betty Burkholder is giving private piano lessons.

Dick Musser is now in the Air Corps at Shephard Field, Texas, where he is learning to become a flight engineer in a B-29.

Clair Werner is practice teaching industrial arts at Millersville State Teachers College Training School.

Vice-Presidents To Be Interviewed In Times

The We La Hi Times staff will conduct an interview of the vice presidents of all classes this year. Last year sketches of class presidents appeared in "Profiles".

Summaries of club activities will appear under "Club News" in each successive issue of the paper. The staff selects one or two clubs, their purpose and studies will be emphasized.

Gardens most of all. Here they had a water-ski expedition. Although orchids and gardenias grow profusely in the garden, visitors were not allowed to pick the beauties.

POETRY CORNER

HALLOWE'EN FUN by Patsy Dusel

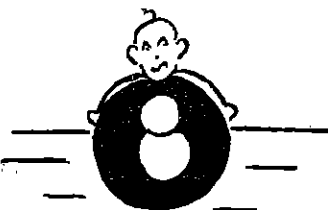

When I see the farmers shocking corn,
And the pumpkins on the ground,
Tis then I know that Hallowe'en
Will shortly be around.

I think that's one night in the year,
When all boys have some fun,
They hide a gate or ring a bell
And when someone comes — they run.

We all dress up in different clothes,
Like witches or beauties or clowns.
And though the people we trick, get mad,
There's a smile beneath their frowns.

My father often tells me,
Of the things he used to do.
I'll bet if I pulled tricks like that,
He'd beat me black and blue.

One thing you must remember tho'
In all the tricks you do.
Have fun, but don't destroy property;
I don't think that's nice — do you?

BEHIND THE 8-BALL

Well, some girls still have hopes for the future. We hear Joanne, Sara Jane, and Dorothy Brubaker have their silverware ordered.

Patsy Dusel thinks it is worth traveling to York! Could it be on account of a Lancaster boy who lives there?

Well, Stella Steinman, don't you think there are plenty of boys in West Lampeter to call on the phone? We understand you've been communicating with a Senior in East Lampeter.

Well, fellas, you may be right by thinking girls carry "junk" in their pocketbooks. A dust brush was found in Gloria Holzhauer's!

We hear Bonnie Holton missed her school bus and started walking to school but ended up in Refton! Possibly we should supply her with a map.

What could be so interesting to Marguerite Roland at Media Heights? Was it full moon?

We all miss last year's Seniors; but no one misses them as much as Mike Brunner, who has kept every article of his clothing intact this year.

Charlotte Kling, how do you keep your pleasing figure with all the eating you do in biology class?

Zeph's Mysterious Adventure

Since little Zeph, six years old, insisted upon having a Jack-O-Lantern for Hallowe'en, he left the house, hoping to arrive home before it became dark. While going through the fields, he discovered a new fence that he could not climb, therefore he would have to take the long, dark way by the quarry to get the pumpkin. When he secured the pumpkin, it was already dark.

While hurrying home, suddenly he was conscious of an unearthly sound all around him and a strange orange glow coming from the quarry. He crept over to see a large black shapeless figure stirring in a pot of witches brew. All around him were bats, witches, broomsticks, cats, skeletons and rats, all conversing in low tones. Suddenly the ugly figure burst into a large flame and rapidly burned to ashes. A debate pursued over what should be done to punish bad boys!

Zeph became so frightened that his hair stood on end. He dropped the pumpkin which went rolling to the bottom of the quarry with a terrific thud. The ghouls realizing that someone was listening, sprang to their feet and ascended into the air.

Frightened, Zeph ran home as fast as he could, not realizing that he was the only mortal to ever witness the annual convention of the Hallowe'en Ghouls.

from Thiel College in Greenville, Pa. While attending Elizabethtown, Miss Straley received a journalism award. She has informed us that this is her first teaching position.

Enjoying all sports, she likes to participate in most all of them. Some of her favorites are bowling, tennis, skating, and badminton.

Her hobbies are music and sports. Her main interests in music are semi-classical and Fred Waring arrangements.

She is the advisor to the Y-Teen Club. Miss Straley likes teaching very much but dislikes those noisy talkers and gum chewers in study hall.

Mr. Seyler

Our new Junior High English and reading teacher, Mr. Seyler, has had much teaching experience. Previously he has taught in Berks County for 13 years and in Schuylkill County for 1 year.

He attended Penn State College, the University of Pennsylvania and is a graduate of Kutztown State Teachers College.

He enjoys sports as a spectator. Among his hobbies are the enlarging and tinting of snapshots.

Mr. Seyler prefers classical and semi-classical music. However, he also enjoys a good stage play and opera. His pet peeve in general seems to be "hot jazz".

Mr. Weaklim

Teaching Algebra I, Algebra II, Plane Geometry, and Trigonometry, we find Mr. Weaklim, who is a former resident of the trailer camp at Penn State College.

At home he has three lively children, ranging in age from

Robert Sultzbach

As vice-president of the Senior class, Bob Sultzbach takes care of all the odd jobs the other officers are too busy to do.

His interests are well rounded and he enjoys a variety of sports. Basketball, football, swimming and hockey are a few of them.

Sweet 'n swing music — the kind that makes for good dancing is Bob's request. As for the dance partner, she must be quiet but full of fun.

That car has taken hold of him and Bob claims it is his hobby and his life ambition to be known as "Smiling Bob", the used car dealer.

three months to six years, but he still finds time for several hobbies. Candy-making, with bon-bons as the specialty, and Boy Scout work head the list. Mr. Weaklim is supervising the Merit Badge Club which is under the Boy Scouts of America. When participating, volleyball is his favorite sport but when he is on the sidelines he prefers football.

Mr. Weaklim attended high school at Pottsville, Pa., where he was a member of the debating team. He continued his education at Pennsylvania State College where he was on the dean's list.

In music, Mr. Weaklim prefers Tchaikowsky to jazz. Also among his favorites are classical composers and operas.

Miss Jones

Our school nurse comes to us from Philadelphia where she was previously engaged in public health work. Her home is in Camden, New Jersey. Having obtained her nurses' training at New York City Hospital, she then specialized in public health work. While working in that field she received a scholarship to Northwestern University and the Chicago Medical School where she majored in physical therapy.

Recently she obtained her B. S. degree in Education from the University of Pennsylvania. Miss Jones' hobbies are painting Christmas cards, water coloring and knitting. Ballet and operatic music are some more of her "likes".

With the mother-in-law already at odds with poor Arthur Hale, it doesn't take much to start a quarrel. After many surprising things happen, the game is up. The youngsters have won . . . or have they?

Deciding that the Hales are really not so bad the two determine the Hales will live happily ever after in the house.

From here on it's all done with mirrors and what a happy ending is in store for Andy and Amy!

Gleanings From Composition Class

These parodies on the "Canterbury Tales" were written in the Senior English class:

The Barber—by June Houser
There was a barber who for many years,
Had cut the peoples' hair with sleek, sharp shears.
He watched the latest styles and profits made,
Whenever new hair-do's would increase trade.
And it was his opinion spoken free,
That congressmen should make the daily fee
A greater sum for barbers and to ban
These home wave sets from filling all the land.
He was a self-made man and made you frown,
By dying blonde hair green instead of brown.
So cunning was he and so quick to speak,
That few his barber services did seek.

The Pilot—by Lorraine Burkhart
A pilot flew his plane as best he could!
Bad gales and storms in air he had withstood.
His weather-beaten face made this quite plain,
He knew the way from Jutland down to Spain,
Or Hull to Carthage — dangers and the rides,
The airports and the pilotings besides,
With many a tempest had his beard been shaken;
Many a draft of wine he'd deftly taken,
Merchants slept, and many a mother's son,
Been killed in air battles he had won.

The Milkman—by Pat Keener
A milkman drove his horse as best he could!
Bad roads and bridges on route he had withstood.
His rickety old wagon made this quite plain,
He knew the road from Strasburg up to Bridge, they now call Bain,
Or Lancaster to Reading—sick horses and the cold,
The disagreeable housewives and the sour milk untold.
With many a snow storm had his beard been frozen,
Full many a cud of tobacco he had chosen,
While babies cried, and many a mother on end,
Awaited this perfect food, their stomachs at last to mend.
Gossiper and doctor both he'd been, quite well,
This faithful milkman they called Emanuel.

The Farmer—by Shirley Lefever
There was a man along, whose skill was known
In farming fields with a tractor of his own;
The king he was of agricultural art.
He knew how to use implements, to stop and start;
Could grow clover, hay and and plow and sew;
Could grow clover hay and triumphed when time to mow!
It seemed a pity that upon his land,
Fate had placed an iron hand.
"He who lives well is the best preacher." — Cervantes.
